Great way to start February. Feeder steers and heifers sold incredibly well across the board. The market was steady to very active. Calling this week’s market $5 to upwards of $20 cwt higher than the previous week.

Grazing cattle seem to have a lot of attention due to the cost of gain being cheaper and the abundance of rain we have received across the country. Buyers seem to still be giving a premium for front end cattle that are worked and have quality. Packer cows and bulls sold steady to active as well.
